Preliminaries of State Golf Championship Tomorrow.

GOLFERS FLOCK TO DEL MONTE.

Ready to Tee Off in State Championship Play.

Few High-Class Players in the Missing List.

Dr. Paul M. Hunter Looms Up as Favorite.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT
DEL MONTE (Cal.) Sept. 1.—Del Monte is now the stamping ground of the rank and file of the golfers from every section of California. The occasion is the sanguine opening of the state championship on Saturday. Judging from the entries made so far there will be over 250 men in the competition and over 20 women to go after the Del Monte women's title.

Dr. Paul M. Hunter of Pasadena comes up out of the big field as the prevailing favorite. His success of last year followed by his great success in England as a member of the American team has impressed the golfing fraternity with his ability. Outside of Douglas Grant and Arthur "Bunker" Vincent, who are now abroad, there will not be missing a single high-class player in the state.

KOSLOFF DANCERS AND SARAH PADDEN ARE BOOKED.

By Grace Kingsley.

Whatever prohibition Martin Beck and the other Orpheum heads are putting on elaborate acts, they are using the utmost discrimination, and therefore are still encouraging those which have real artistic value. The only curtailment is that of meaningless spectacles, girl acts with no point, peepshow revues and such like trash.

Two new acts were announced yesterday as having just been acquired by the circuit. One is a dance production by Theodore Kosloff, which will make its initial bow in the Coast cities on concert tour, and which later will go over the Orpheum circuit.

The other is Miss Freda as its premiere dancer, and various other artists, including some graduate pupils from the Russian ballet school located in this city. This will be the most brilliant and elaborate affair ever produced by the noted dancer.

Sarah Padden in a new comedy drama play is the other act. Miss Padden is a great favorite here as the young actress, who has appeared in the play "The Cloud," a remarkable dramatic playlet in which she scored as a dull, sordid, ignorant woman of the "poor white trash" class during the Civil War. The play was considered a classic.

It was while in New York recently that Mr. Clegg, assistant manager of the local theater, met Miss Padden, and at once induced the booking of her act.

She played the Palace in New York for the past six weeks ago, and scores an instant hit. She has a fine supporting cast, which she will bring directly to San Francisco from New York, making her appearance in the northern city next Sunday, and continuing to Los Angeles the latter part of this month.

Miss Padden has joined the ranks of the local theater boosters by bobbing her head, which style is said to be highly becoming to her, despite her well-known dignity.

Gloria Swanson's New One.

They're shining up Gloria Swanson's dinner plate at her house, preparing to return it to her, to the minute she reaches home from New York, next week. Miss Swanson has been tasting metropolitan joys, literal and figurative, during the past two weeks, and for so long a time as Jessie L. Lasky directs she can spare her from her ardent fans.

Miss Swanson will surely have time to say her baby good-bye good-bye, when she will be off to the studio to begin a new picture, "The Husband's Trademark." This is original property by Clara Berensztein and Roy Wood is to direct.

There are compensations. One will be the fact that Miss Swanson will have as her leading man no less than the famous star, Lewel Sherman, who will play the hero. Mr. Sherman, as you know, usually plays the villain. However, he did play the hero role with Mae Murray in the Oliver Libby picture, so backslid immediately afterward, and since he cannot be trusted to reform permanently.

Elinor Glyn is writing another story. Miss Swanson is to be around the Rocks." This will be filmed after the present one is completed, with Sam Wood once more telling the actors what to do.

From Cocoanut Jungle.

Mabel Normand: Say, dearies, those Swiss Family Robinson troupers wouldn't have a dull moment if they lived one of them Ambassador's accounts. What would they? How we are keeping the goldfish, up, aren't we? Look over there! Colleen Moore with a new one—oh, well, I mean one of her many new ones. Yes, John McCormick says, "No, we don't see any diamond ring, but they do say—

Violà Danai: Tea, I just said to myself this morning, "I've taken the well long enough, I feel stepping out again, won't it? Look over there! Colleen Moore with a new one—oh, well, I mean one of her many new ones. Yes, John McCormick says, "No, we don't see any diamond ring, but they do say—

Ruth Stonehouse: Well, there's Conrad Nagel. With his own wife too, I mean. But he just too monotonously angelic!

Mrs. Wallace Reid: Well, if there aren't Walter Morosco and Betty Compson! Looks as though Betty had a sparkler on the third act. And I can't see so very well from here.

Walter Hiers: Goodness gracious! There isn't Mary McVee, Bill Desmond's wife! One—two—three with Desmond sitting on the blue bench, while Mary dances with 'em!

Betty Compson: Ruth Stonehouse certainly likes them dark and devilish. Well, she's certainly got one now!

Colleen Moore: Mabel Normand has caught a distinguished looking one with gray hair this time! Oh, and the boy is a real hunk of a bag of engagement rings.

John McCormick: No, dearies, we ain't going home yet! You may be, too? Well, all right, sweetie! You know I can't resist nothing you want!

Bert Lytell Home:

Don't ask Bert Lytell anything about his recent hunting trip up north unless you want to get it all wrong. Lytell brought nothing home with him but a bad case of sunburn and disgust.

You see, it was this way. The star got out the nimrod props one morning, and as he was all set and full of come and ambition, he entered an unknown country that he thought was all wild and uncivilized.

GOLDWYN COMPANY ADDS TO ITS PRODUCTION FORCE.

By Edwin Schallert.

The eve of Samuel Goldwyn's departure for the East has been marked by further increases in the production staff of the studios of the Goldwyn corporation. This is said to preface in a practical way activities already heralded by the president of the organization.

Chief among the new additions is that of Irvin V. Willat to both the scenario and the production departments. It is known that Irvin V. Willat has been busy at his own studios, but he has now come to the megaphone "Yellowtops and Gold," a Governmental Comedy, which is described as a thrilling melodrama with a Chinese background, and is said to be right in with the latest fad.

Several additional have also been added to the scenario and titling departments, including the assignment of Agnes Smith, motion-picture critic on the "Daily Telegraph," to the writing of subtitles, and Mrs. E. Magnus Ingelson, and Hope Lorring to continue.

Miss Smith recently arrived here from New York to undertake her new work. Mrs. Ingelson is now adapting Cynthia Stockley's story, "Wild Apples," to the screen, while Sybil Seelye is opposite her in "Ophelia in 'People's Paradise'." If they like her as well as they do Winifred Westover at the Selznick New York studios, it is possible that Miss Ingelson will find her place in her own pictures by Selznick later on.

Community Rehearsals.

Rehearsals are under way for the Goldwyn Community Players under the direction of Miss Neely Dickson. The first offering will be "The Royal Pandango," which was premiered last May in New York. Two one-act plays will also be given.

Plays Opposite O'Brien.

Sigrid Holmquist, known as the Swedish Mary Pickford, has signed a new contract to play the principal supporting role in "Opposite O'Brien" in "People's Paradise." If they like her as well as they do Winifred Westover at the Selznick New York studios, it is possible that Miss Holmquist will find her place in her own pictures by Selznick later on.

Louise Dresser Returns.

Louise Dresser and Jack Gardner will be present next week as topnotchers on the new Orpheum bill. Like a number of acts, there starts in Pittsburgh on vacation, to return now in process of preparation. Meanwhile Sybil Seelye has been doing a featured ingenue role opposite Buster.

Miss Fox expects to visit New York and Atlantic City before her return.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Senate Finance Committee, in taking up the tax bill, decided to change the form from a series of amendments to a complete revision of existing laws. No action was taken on any controversial points in the bill as passed by the House.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover indicated that President Harding's conference on unemployment will begin between September 15 and 20.

Shippers in rebuttal testimony before the Interstate Commerce Commission in the grain-rate case contended that railroads in the western district increased their surplus in 1920 over 1919 by the amount of $200,000,000. They insisted the roads were able to stand rate reductions.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ANGORA, Aug. 8.—The Nation-incentive to Turkish stamp collection. It has not only issued, at various times, small quantities of stamps to its territories, but it has also surcharged with its name several sets of revenue and post-

Imperial Ottoman government at Constantinople.

It has lately arranged to have printed in Italy a complete set of new stamps of its own, thereby making more valuable the temporary surcharged stamps used during the past two years.

The surcharged stamps, frequently taken from the files of the ministries of foreign affairs and treasury, Constantinople have in several cases been surcharged with the lettering upside down.

Lieut.-Commander Robert Dunn, intelligence officer at the American Embassy, Constantinople, who has the single large collection of Turkish stamps, has during his various trips to the interior, formed a large collection of the Nationalist stamps, which he has also surcharged with his name. The value of these is from $50 to $100 each.

Among the rare stamps printed by the Ottoman government during the war was that for the Dardanelles campaign and another for the Egyptian campaign. The latter stamp shows the Turkish soldier crossing the Suez Canal but as the expedition failed in the lettering identifying the stamp as a later issue.

As in other countries of Europe, stamp collectors have in many cases followed him. When lately Eskişehir was occupied by the Greeks, the first care of the local postmaster was to save his stock of rare stamps.

VILNA ROW IS BELIEVED TO BE OVER.

Poles and Lithuanians Are Said to Have Agreed on Two Districts.

BY CARL G. ASSOCIATED PRESS

GENEVA, Sept. 1.—The dispute between Poland and Lithuania regarding Vilna, was settled by the representatives of the two countries here this morning. They agreed that there should be two Lithuanias: one the district of Kovno, which shall be independent, and the other Vilna, in which the Poles will supervise the administration.

Later it developed that the reported settlement between Poland and Lithuania was still open to some question, and although well-informed persons considered the arrangement amicable, there were said to be questions of detail yet to be adjusted.

AUTOS KILL MANY, SHOWN IN REPORT.

COMMITTEE COMMENTS ON
FAILURE TO RELEASE CON-VICT FROM PRISON.

BY EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—According to the report of the National Highways Protective Society issued today, 1072 persons were killed by automobiles in the State of New York in January 1. This is an increase of nearly $21.5 per cent over 1920, when 868 persons were killed. Col. Edward S. Cornell, secretary, says that motor trucks are becoming more and more a menace, and collisions due to them, are continually on the increase.

During the past month, 217 persons were killed by automobiles in New York, according to the report.
The new law provides that the top of the headlight must be at least 42 inches from the ground at 75 feet beyond the front of the automobile.

Many occupants of automobiles were killed at grade crossings during August.

WOODMEN'S CIRCLE HEAD SAYS
$15.50 A WEEK LEAST THAT ONE MAY LIVE ON.

BY EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Mary E.
Laroca, supreme guardian of the Woodmen's Circle, addressing the National Fraternal Congress, declared that $15.50 a week is the least amount a single woman without dependents can live.
This amount was arrived at after statistics and reports from employers and employees from all parts of the country were compiled.

The time has come, said Mrs.
Laroca, "when we must concern ourselves about these low-paid workers.
We all care what becomes of these girls and women workers, and now we must make sure that they have enough to live on. We must see that if they are ever in need of help we, as an organized body, are more than willing to do all we can."

Henry Roti of Montreal, Can., was the father of seven children.
The next annual meeting will be held in Montreal. There are 11,000,000 members associated in the organization throughout the United States and Canada.

SHIPPING BOARD MANAGER FOR COAST IN WASHINGTON FOR TALK WITH OFFICIALS.

BY EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—H. H.
Eby, Pacific Coast district manager for the Shipping Board, is in Washington conferring with officials of the board relative to Coast shipping conditions.

Mr. Eby has told his friends that he has no intention of resigning, and expects to return to San Francisco to continue his work as soon as his conference is completed. In spite of this, he has been asked to resign by the Shipping Board, which has determined to make a change and that much of the work of the board will be concentrated on the Pacific Coast, with headquarters in San Francisco.

This report also includes the appointment of a Seattle man to succeed
Eby in charge of all Coast activities.
Shipping men in touch with the board are certain that all of the Coast will be placed in one district, and inclining to the belief that Seattle will be headquarters.

IDEAL MEN MUST FIND
NEW SLEEPING PLACES.

BY EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

NEW YORK, PARKS TO BE CLOSED TO THEM AFTER NEXT MONDAY.

BY EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Twenty-five thousand unemployed men who have been using the parks as shelters have been ordered to leave them, according to an announcement by Park Commissioner Gallatin today. All during the summer the parks have been filled with idle men, and the work of collecting them and sending them to places of employment has been a task for the cleaners. The park commissioners say the idle men displayed very little consideration for city property, desecrating trees and shrubbery, defacing benches and other property.
More men are now out of work than were idle in the lean days of 1914, when soup houses were only open during the World War.
More men than ever before are sitting in the municipal lodging houses, and the charity organizations and the city are facing a serious problem.
An estimate puts the number of idle men at $60,000.

The situation has become so acute that a committee of the Red Cross, Salvation Army and others have decided to jump their finances, divide the work among them and undertake the work of relief with the method of an engineering project.

ZR-2 VICTIMS MEMORIALIZED.

Mammoth Services Held at Church in Hull.

Many United Kingdom Officials Pay Their Respects.

Flags at Half-Mast on All Public Buildings.

BY C. H. AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
HULL (Eng.) Sept. 1.—The service at the Holy Trinity Church there, in which the Lord Mayor, the Sheriff and other city officials, U.S. Consul Grout was the chief mourner for the American dead.

MANY CIVIC BODIES.

In the procession were representatives of 12 local civic bodies, local British army and navy, Commander Byrd, with officers and men of the United States Navy at the head. Two officers and six men of the various services departed in the Howson aerodrome. Vice Marshal Vyvyan of the Royal Forces, and representatives of the Y.M.C.A. in England. Notwithstanding a drizzling rain, thousands of spectators lined the route of the procession. The marchers were the full measure of color over the quaint costumes provided by ancient customs, the women in scarlet and the men in blue.

A half-hour clock preceded the Lord Mayor, who, in resplendent regals and gold chain, led the procession. Consul Grout accompanied the Lord Mayor. The procession then became more impressive as the costly column was composed of the Trinity house brothers, a well-known charitable society dating back to the 14th century.

FLAGS AT HALF-MAST.

In all public buildings the flag was hoisted at half-mast, though the Holy Trinity Church, which was built in 1906, is the largest church in England. It was built to accommodate more than a fraction of those seeking admittance.

The service was conducted by the Rev. George Buchanan. The service was opened with the hymn "God Our Help in Ages Past," and included the "Trinity Peasant" special prayer.

Home and country peace in the world and for the bereaved in England and America and concluded with the national anthem and "Hail to the Queen."

PLAY "FUNERAL MARCH."

While the band played Chopin's "Funeral March," a number of women were overcome, several of them fainting. The American and British naval officers, who were present, bowed their heads, the officers and men paid their respects to their comrades in the service, four whom received training at the local school and whose kindred kept pace with the rest of the assemblage.

With the finding of Commander Maxfield's body, only nine American victims remain unaccounted for. Consul Grout today said he hoped that all the American dead would be recovered in time to ship the bodies to Plymouth by next Monday or Tuesday.

ACT ON COTTON SELLING PLAN.Clearinghouse to Report on Marketing Project.Program Promises Increased Profits for Growers.Would Handle Ten Thousand Bales from Southland.*

The Los Angeles Clearinghouse yesterday directed a special committee to make a thorough investigation and to give a report on the co-operative cotton manufacturing and marketing plan as outlined before the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday and before the clearinghouse members yesterday afternoon by W. D. Nesbitt of Alabama.

"We were very much interested in what Mr. Nesbitt had to say," declared A. J. Waters, president of the clearinghouse, "and appointed committee composed of J. H. Brown, H. H. Bamberg and J. A. H. Kerr to go carefully into the matter and make recommendations on it. It will take several days for that report to be completed, but as far as at hand we cannot pass upon the plan."

Mr. Nesbitt, who is president of the Warrenton Warbonnet Company, Birmingham, and Mobile, and an outstanding figure in the cotton world, said last night that he will remain here until final action is taken on his project to handle 15,000 bales of cotton which will be part of the $25,000 bales which it is planned to have manufactured and sold on a "cost plus 10 per cent" contract to a number of the strongest American mills. The details of the transportation, grading and sale of the cotton and its finished product will be taken care of through the clearinghouse.

Under this arrangement it is hoped to increase the net return to the grower of cotton by making it possible for him to share in the profits with the large savings of cotton handling, where the returns are the largest.

Finger Prints on Auto May Trap Slayers.

A number of finger prints found on the polished sides of the stolen automobile used by the two bandits who, on Wednesday afternoon, shot and killed Jacob S. Wagner, 88 years ago, during an attempt to rob his store at 815 Laramie, were made and the names of the highwaymen, the police said yesterday. The automobile was discovered in the 100 block on East Sixty-fifth street yesterday morning.

It was stolen by George Mackenthorn of 667 South Garfield street a day before the hold-up and killing. When the car was found, one of the prints was missing. The other prints were discovered on the door frame.

Wagner was shot and instantly killed early Wednesday afternoon by two masked bandits when he attempted to stop them after they had entered his store and ordered him to turn over all his money. Following the shooting the men leaped into their automobile and drove away. He left no will.

FOUR MORE AID BOOST CAMPAIGN.All-Year Committee Has Success With Owners of Apartment-houses.*

New subscribers added yesterday to the roster of the All-Year Club of Southern California included the C. B. Van Vort Company, the Mary Lepis, Mrs. Romeo G. Raymond Brown, and the Burham Phonograph Corporation. Their subscriptions were reported by D. H. Jones and Durvald Howes Jr.

The efforts of the committees appointed by the Apartment House Owners' Association to enlist the support of all apartment owners and operators for the all-year movement are bringing excellent results, it was reported yesterday. The special house committee consisting of H. R. Jaquith, announced that it will send special letters urging every restaurant and cafe proprietor in the city to aid the all-year program toward perfecting the all-year organization in each of the Southland counties are under way.

James C. McLean, secretary of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce, has advised to make a discussion of the all-year movement one of the special topics at this organization's first meeting of the season on the 28th

Report Shows Huge Customs Increase Here.

The August report of Customs Collector Elliott, compiled yesterday, shows a big boost in all lines of activity in his department of collections, imports and exports.

The collections leaped to $195,981.73 for August, 1921, compared to $75,578.26 for August, 1920.

The exports increased from $452,892 for August, 1920, to $1,114,115 for August, 1921.

The imports indicate a large growth in our local export and import trade. The report is one of the most satisfactory for many months.

HEIRS TO ESTATE.

Widow and Child of W. A. Steeble to Receive $25,000.

William A. Steeble, who died last Sunday, leaves an estate of $25,000, according to a petition for probate filed yesterday. The widow, Rose M. Steeble, and Rosemary Hammill Steeble, 10 years of age, are mentioned in the will. Hammill Steeble died at the family residence, 417 South Mariposa avenue. He left no will.

These are only a few of a great many new features one may find in the Dresses at Robinson's.

Daytime Dresses

PARIS, indeed, had the interests of the Stout Woman at heart when she created the Daytime Dress. Developed in the fine wool fabrics and silks, richly embroidered or beaded, it lacks nothing—except a waist line. A most important and attractive lack, for the appearance of slenderness is complete—a and altogether charming.

In many of these Dresses, particularly in the Coat Dress, the bodice falls loosely from the shoulders where it meets the tunic (it is a season of tunics) well below the waist line. Tunics reach the hem and often fall below it in their pursuit of slenderness.

These are only a few of a great many new features one may find in the Dresses at Robinson's.

New Blouses

ONE is bound to look one's best in the new black overblouses that come so smartly beaded and embroidered and braided. And black, be it remembered, will be worn anywhere, any time, this Fall.

Beige and navy and henna are also much in favor in the georgette crepe models.

And in the white—hand-made Blouses of French Voile with drawn work, pin tucks and real Irish and filet trimmings. And sports Blouses of dimity that go with skirts and sweaters.

Truly the new Overblouses make for slenderness!

Sizes 42 and 44.

THIRD FLOOR

Coats and Wraps

YOUTH and slenderness are plainly visible in the new autumn Coats and Wraps as in the Suits and Gowns. The larger sizes are especially favoring youthful lines.

A blue parvelaine Coat with large Australian opossum collar, flares slightly over the hips, but is straight in the back.

Taupe fox collar and cuffs give distinction to a golden brown Evora Model fashioned on straight lines.

THIRD FLOOR

Tailleurs

WITH fashion decreasing that the Autumn Jacket shall reach well below the knee and the Autumn Skirt within 6 or 10 inches of the floor—one can hardly look otherwise than slender.

The Fall Tailleur, by reason of its simplicity, will be a source of constant joy to the woman who is slightly stout.

In the plain models there are tricotines and velour de laines richly embroidered.

In the fur trimmed models such lovely fabrics as silk valdyne and parvelaine enhance their beauty with chenille or silk embroidery and collars of mole or squirrel.

Thursday, Fall Tailleur in large sizes will be featured.

THIRD FLOOR

Silk Sweaters

SILK Sweaters! Of all the lovely sports things that women wear, what so attractive as the Silk Sweater?

In the Tuxedo style, the Stout Woman may feel quite as well dressed as her more slender sister, for the long line of the front and the narrow sash give height and narrowness.

Robinson's New Silk Sweaters come in a splendid assortment of large sizes in plain and fancy weaves.

Colors are: navy, brown, beige, purple, jade, henna, white and black.

They are priced as low as $29.50.

THIRD FLOOR

Knit Underwear

Some one must eventually succeed you as manager of your business or estate.

Now, while you are living, you are privileged to choose that successor yourself.

If you fail to make a Will, someone else will make the selection.

Why not appoint the oldest trust company in the Southwest to succeed you?

Why not arrange today to have your plans carried out with the same degree of fidelity and attention to detail that you would give to them yourself?

FOURTH FLOOR

Italian Silk Underwear

KAYSER'S Italian Silk Underwear needs no praise. Its smooth fitting qualities make it especially desired by the larger woman.

The heavy quality of this Silk Underwear is difficult to get. Because it wears so well, it is greatly in demand.

Robinson's have a very complete stock of this heavy quality in large sizes in Vesta, Envelope Chemises, Bloomers and Union Suits.

DIPS AGAIN MARRIAGE

Man Whose First Wife Wrecked Gets Another.

Ralph S. Bourne of Eagle Rock

His Other Affair Four Years Later

Ralph S. Bourne of whose first marriage years of litigation in the case is going to marry again 22 years of age, and I. M. Street, also of Eagle Rock, is the bride-to-be.

Since the court expert in this case, Mrs. Bourne has been married again.

In 1919 Mrs. Marie

sued Mr. and Mrs. Hart for the return of their son, Ralph. She had left her because she was not a good wife.

Whether wife

was better than mother or vice versa was the question.

His wife got $12,500 and was promptly appealed on the part of the defendant.

Then came before the District Court of Appeal

after nearly two years of litigating.

The court ruled that the plaintiff was entitled to the $12,500.

That was the end of the case.

Now comes the new chapter.

The younger Bourne

has obtained a divorce

from his wife.

He is now engaged to another woman.

Both women are now engaged to other men.

DIPS AGAIN IN MARRIAGE SEA.Man Whose First Venture Was Wrecked Gets License.Ralph S. Bourne Chooses Girl of Eagle Rock This Time.His Other Affair Resulted in Four Years' Litigation.*

Ralph S. Bourne of Eagle Rock, whose first marriage caused four years of litigation in the courts here, is going to marry again. He is now 22 years of age, and Miss Carolina K. Stiel, also of Eagle Rock, who is 21, is the bride-to-be, according to the license issued yesterday.

Since his short experience in matrimony and its long legal consequences, Mr. Bourne has been to war, serving as an officer in the Russian army.

In 1914 Mrs. Marie M. Bourne sued Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Bourne for alienation of the affections of their daughter, and the court awarded her the girl because of their infidelity. Whether wife could cook better than mother and several other vital questions were at stake. The wife got $1,500 of the $100,000 judgment, but in this action of a jury she promptly appealed by the parents who had denied all.

Then it came before the justices of the District Court of Appeal, who after two years decided, (not dissenting) that the parents were not responsible for their son's departure from his wife. Meantime the wife had obtained a divorce on the ground of desertion. Both the older and the younger Bourne are real estate dealers.

LOVE NOTES CHARGED BY SUING WIFE.Husband's Sweetheart Tried to Kill Self Over Him, is Divorce Seeker's Assertion.*

Asserting that she has many love letters which her husband wrote to an old sweetheart after his marriage and that this sweetheart has been writing to her on two occasions to satisfy her, Elfrida E. Love filed suit for divorce yesterday from Alexander Love of 724 West Thirty-second street.

Elfrida Love's complaint refers to newspaper articles in the local press of April 14, 1907, wherein pictures of Mr. Love and his former sweetheart and her daughter were published with the statement of the sweetheart's attorney that she would commit suicide because of her love for the defendant.

Since July, 1918, the plaintiff has been taking care of her husband at home. Thirty-second street and numerous incidents of purported cruelty are cited whereat Mr. Love is charged with being jealous of his wife, having failed to accuse her of being unfaithful, while some of the boarders and with having on four occasions ordered the boarder in question to leave, only to admit later that he had made a mistake and, apologizing, request the boarder to remain.

Property at Venice and at 915 South Vermont avenue, estimated to be worth $20,000, is cited as commanding a large income. Mrs. Love asks for an equal division of this property, $75 per month and $500 attorney's fees. Mr. Love is an employee of the Liverpool Iron Works of Germany's standing. There is an 11-year-old daughter and a son of 14. The complaint was filed by George A. Boden.

There was also an unusual percentage of the money expended in building homes. The total for residential property amounted to $4,558,456.

Permits for industrial buildings, shops and factories totaled $22,000, and for warehouses buildings $22,700.

Elizabeth Jordan's Column:

HOT WEATHER LIVING

"It's odd how unintelligent most women are during the hot weather," said a leading specialist, the other day. "The mother of a family, if she has any common sense, can keep her family as well and almost as comfortable when it is hot as it is cold. But she has got to use common sense—and it's simply amazing to see how rarely she does it."

COOLING OFF THE HOUSE

"Take the question of the house temperature, for example," he went on with fervent animation. "The idea of the average woman is to throw open all the windows and let the sun blare into the house all day. She thinks she is creating a circulation of air. What she should do, of course, is to thoroughly air the house during the early morning hours, before the sun is high, and then to close all windows which the direct sun rays can strike, and draw the blinds. She will get her air through the other windows, but she should keep the whole house pretty dark during the blinding hours. As soon as the sun goes down she can throw open all the windows again and get the evening breeze—if there are any. Of course she must close the house off at night."

HOOT WEATHER MEALS

"Next to the question of food and drink, as to the latter, she should entirely cut out tea and coffee from meals, except at breakfast. Of course, if the family indulges in tea or coffee they can be served, but lemonade is much better. The water should be cooled in a big bottle in the ice box, and not served with tea or it. The indiscriminate drinking of ice water is one of our national evils. The prohibitionists ought to get after it."

"As to food, meat and rich desserts should be cut considerably during hot weather. Fish can be delicious, and salmon, beans can afford it, and a lot of fruit and fresh vegetables. Care must be taken, however, not to let fruits, whether whole or sliced, or dried, dry out. If one can digest them, but they should not be eaten with ice cream. Peaches are good, too, and apples are best of all—especially when

Making More Money.

Folks Individual Pad Brings Into Being a Big Playing Business.

A MATTER of the ways in which different people have either added to their original incomes or have succeeded in making an extra living for themselves, shows that one of the most profitable of all is to capture some hobby which they had taken up in their leisure time of recreation and without any idea of a monetary return. In the first place, many of us women with hobby usually learn more about it than even a dead student of the subject and, secondly, they are apt to spend a lifetime in trouble in developing the fine points of the art in which they are interested.

Take the case of John R. Simpson of Pasadena. Two years ago, Simpson had been interested in butterflies for years before he gave the slightest thought to utilizing his hobby as a means of increasing his income. In fact, if any one had suggested such a thing, he would have replied, "But who would buy them?" Of course, there are some rare species that would find a ready market, but Simpson had none in my own collection. No, there's nothing to butterfly collecting except the thrill of the chase and the love of beauty.

Then, one day, Simpson chanced to see a locker displayed in a jeweler's window—a silver tray containing butterflies for sale. He was so interested that tiny butterflies were imbedded. And the price tag made him rub his eyes in amazement. It was $100.00. Worth nothing less than that figure and the work on the tray was hardly worth mentioning. For, with a few simple tools, he could duplicate it in an hour. So, returning home, Simpson experimented with buttonholes, and found that a collection of a number of different objects. He made trays and hampers, lockets and watches, and he found that he could sell them even at a loss, particularly when he added dried flowers or grasses to complete the backgrounds in their own colors and the result was so unique and striking that almost before he realized it, he had started a little business.

"If these were to do well, then they and their families could forget the hot weather."

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

The Library Site

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times.] In an article entitled, "Answers Park Site's Critic," in The Times of August 23, Mr. Luther A. Ingerson quotes a portion of your letter to me, where you stated objections to the site of Pershing Square for the library.

Mr. Ingerson points out that his plan of locating the library and rearranging the walls is positively wrong. In the siting of the library, capacity of the Square more than one-third its present capacity. All this may be true; for the arrangement of walls and seats in Pershing Square is not designed to prevent from getting the maximum seating capacity in the park; but the inference that placing a library in Pershing Square creates increased difficulty in seats in the Square in park-like surroundings is entirely misleading.

Does Mr. Ingerson believe that by adding one-third to the present capacity of Pershing Square that he will have solved the remaining problem of providing open air breathing spaces for this congested section of Los Angeles, present and

Voting and Citizenship.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times.] As a lawyer and a citizen, let me advise the lady who, judging from her communication in this paper this morning, seems to be under the impression that Mrs. Roberts is rather legislation concerning women to vote that such a law is repugnant to the letter and spirit of the Constitution and should not be enforced. The right of American citizens to vote cannot be denied, but to compel a citizen to vote would be an act of tyranny characteristic of the political system of our forefathers rebelled and which revolution unexpectedly resulted in a government founded upon those very principles.

But we note the lady states that she not only does not want to vote, but she does not want to take any interest in politics. If she will pause and reflect, however, she will recognize that by this very protest she has lied against the overzealous proposal of Mr. Roberts, she is taking an interest in politics, and that is a fine thing. Thousands have read her letter with amusement and pride. Her fine, independent spirit has aroused a new but weaker spirit in thousands of young people. But does she recognize the fact that there is honor in service, and that more important than any vote, is the right to serve in public questions and in public service?

That this interest may be more intelligent and sincere than some voting? In fact, I am quite confident that she is a better voter than her wholesome domestic tastes make her a better citizen than most of the women who vote.

She might go further and say that she is a better citizen. Women as well as men, who remind one of the people that Longfellow calls "dumb, drivin' cattle," people who put more importance upon their votes than what they are voting for. Such a citizen cannot be a hero in the strife—cannot make a psalm of life because they not only lack all qualities of leadership, they are "cattle" because they are easily led, because they are lacking in the courage of their own convictions. There are some citizens who think that some people belong to that class of citizens who they think are compelled to vote in order to retain their citizenship.

It is in this respect that Mr. Roberts errs. He drives such citizens into the notion that voting, rather than our conscientious interest in public welfare, is an absolute duty which determines our patriotic citizenship. Our interest may prevent us even from voting.

Los Angeles is today suffering from a haphazard location of public buildings which cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, create a happy civic center, and it is to be hoped that the selection of the library site will be the logical first step of a big plan so essential to our great city.

Upheld Science.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—In a recent issue of your valued paper N. W. Philbrook assumed to criticize Dr. Webster's position on Darwinianism, and I will venture to mildly criticize Mr. Philbrook's position. He blames Dr. Elliot for wishing to do away with the unreasonable stories of creation, evolution, etc., but later admits that belief in these things is not essential. Then in belief or disbelief in these things does not matter, as he says, why not eliminate them, or relegate them to the realm of superstition where they belong. Instead of insisting the people believe them to be literally true, as most orthodox churches do as a test of membership? This keeps them quiet, I venture to say, from following and questioning what they might derive from having connection with them.

Four days later—August 20 Mr. Philbrook writes again, and in the course of his remarks refers to "the vain babblings of science, so-called," and says they have never brought forth anything but moral bankruptcy. "Evil as he has had a very bad time, what science really consists of. One clause in Webster's definition reads: "Truth attained by a course of methodical study; that which we know deductively or inductively, knowledge, principles, principles and relations; learning." We might sum up in a word: "Accurate knowledge." But what of "religion," so-called? The meaning has been more or less lost, but the deities have given up their right to themselves—the right to reveal the past and future, to explain and account for all phenomena by word "God," and of whom they have a still more absurd concept, but speak of him as apart and external to the universe, and as having brought all into being by special creation; whereas science learns that God is immaterial in Nature, that there is a gradual and continuous growth everywhere, that man has never fallen, but has always been struggling upward in conformity to God's eternal law of growth, and development. That need, indeed, (and not pseudo) religion, which is God, and for the heart and concerning in a matter in which we are called Jersey kids, or swop cabbag. I would like to know whether mystery is an conductor of electricity?

PLANNING YOUR PICNIC.

The person who doesn't feel like going on at least one picnic in the summer time had better go and see a doctor! For there must be something the matter with him. Summer picnics are a great treat for grown-ups need to relax our nerves now and then with a little harmless pleasure and recreation, just as children in school must have a recess period to offset the strain of studies.

There are certain foods which generations past have decided should be taken to a picnic, and which generations to come will also endorse as suitable for the occasion. Sandwiches and salads, eggs stuffed and unstuflled, cake or pie, some kind of beverage and fruits. Granted that we must keep within these time-honored bounds, the next question is, "What kind shall we choose?"

In making this choice, the substantiality of the article should be considered. Picnickers who are hungry folk, and they want nourishment as well as daintiness.

It is customary to have two kinds of sandwich—sweet and unsweetened, or ham and peanut butter. Good sweet filling and peanut butter, cream cheese, or meat make a good unsweetened sandwich. And don't spare the butter, for making a good sandwich requires a lot of fat, contains carbohydrates in their most concentrated form and is, therefore, very nutritious providing a reserve supply of energy for the body which is stored away over the top of the bowl.

To stuff eggs (although with a heavy salad and nourishing sandwich eggs are not really worth the trouble) boil them carefully, drain and mix this with the yolks of hard-boiled eggs, wetting it to a paste with a little milk, and seasoning to taste with salt and pepper; then stuff the eggs, close them in halves together, and wrap each stuffed egg with oiled paper.

Berry pies taste better on picnics than any other, because the berries are picked fresh and not blackened!

What is a tragedy in the formal dining-room, is a joke on a picnic. A "three-story" chocolate layer cake is sure to prove popular with the boys, and a good sandwich juice and lemonade.

For salad, fish is a good choice. A tuna fish salad, or a salmon salad, keeps well if it is to be carried a long distance and is hearty enough to satisfy the most ravenous picnickers.

To make this, simply open one large can of the fish for every six persons to be served, and pour over it the following:

Fish Salad Dressing: Put into a saucepan a piece of butter the size of an egg, and when it is melted add 1 tablespoon of flour and stir till on Tuesday at a luncheon for six.

BOY'S LARK COSTS LIFE.

Anheim Lad Shot by Aged Ranch Owner.

Relatives Identify Victim of Auto Accident.

Justice Cox Makes His Court Show a Profit.

SANTA ANA, Sept. 1.—Fred Ebert, 16, of Anaheim, was shot and killed last night on the ranch of Hugo Weisel, 62, wealthy rancher of the Placentia district, when Ebert, in company with "Red" Mathews, another Anaheim boy, and widely known as an amateur boxer, entered the watermelon patch on the ranch. Weisel is now held in the County Jail on a charge of murder, and it is decided to have admitted that he fired the shot that killed Ebert.

The shooting occurred shortly before 11 o'clock. Ebert's body was taken to the Anaheim Hospital soon after the shooting, where he died at 11 o'clock. The wound was the right side of the stomach. Inquest will be held today.

According to the story Mathews told Undersheriff E. E. French today Ebert entered the orchard first, possibly to steal fruit ahead of his companion. When the other heard Mathews, not knowing that his friend had been hit, ran to his automobile and drove down the road. He returned a few minutes later and was stopped by Weisel, who said that time is declared to have said he had killed a man.

Ebert was taken immediately to the Anaheim Hospital, where he died. Weisel himself turned over to the Anaheim police and was brought to the County Jail here this morning. No charge has been filed against the aged rancher as yet. It is thought a coroner's inquest will be held tomorrow. The inquest will be held tomorrow.

Weisel has resided near Fullerton for many years and is well known. He declined today to make a statement in regard to the shooting.

IDENTIFY VICTIM.

An aged man who was run down by an automobile and probably fatally injured on the Newport road, was identified yesterday as Jack Paxton, 75, year old agent of Modesto, at the County Hospital here.

J. W. Hancock, a son-in-law of the accident victim, recognized the man. Paxton is not expected to live, according to Dr. John C. Day, the hospital authority. He sustained a very bad fractured skull. Paxton was struck by a machine driven by Jack Smith of Santa Ana. According to witnesses, one of the accident Paxton was walking on the highway. A machine was approaching from another direction and Smith in order to avoid a collision with Paxton, but struck Paxton with the left front fender, knocking the man down.

PROPER COURSE.

Folks who think Justice J. R. Cox does nothing but sentence more offenders will be surprised to learn the financial report of his court for the last nine months.

According to the judge's figure, $1,000 in fines and fees have been collected. On the figure, $1,000 was collected during the month of August. The cases where fines have been imposed, however, are only a small fraction of the litigation that passes through the hands of the speediest attorney.

Citizens Ask Consideration for Bus Owners.

Increase Efficiency of School Cadet Corps.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

PASADENA, Sept. 1.—Colorado street, the main thoroughfare through Pasadena, may be extended on the East through Arcadia and Monrovia if negotiations between those communities and Pasadena are carried to fulfillment.

This will make Colorado street one of the longest through thoroughfares in the West, if not in the country, as it will be a continuous paved street from Monrovia on the East to Glendale on the West.

At present another boulevard links Arcadia and Monrovia, with Pasadena, north of Colorado street.

P. D. Denyer, city engineer of Pasadena, has been asked to cooperate in preparing plans of the proposed extension, though the improvement would be made by the other cities.

PETITIONS FOR BUSES.

In the face of rumored legislation from the city board of directors to keep the trolley lines of Colorado street in the interest of reducing traffic on that street, bus owners today presented to the directors fifty-five petitions bearing upon the subject.

Although Hoosiers first established the settlement that has grown into the modern city of Pasadena, there is no Indiana society here of former residents of most of the other States. George Eader, local business man and one-time resident of Indiana, has remedied this situation by organizing a local Indiana society. In its earliest days Pasadena was known as the "Indiana colony."

Husband Knocks Gun From Hand of Irate Wife Who Planned Murder and Suicide.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 1.—Possible double tragedy was narrowly avoided this noon by the quick action and accurate aim of R. L. Garth, 27 years old, a local realty dealer.

As he was standing on the corner of American avenue and East Ocean Boulevard he was approached by his wife, who was living apart, who pulled an automatic pistol from the folds of her dress and shot point blank at his realty dealer.

As he was trying to shoot, Garth hurled a book at her hand. His aim was accurate and probably saved his life. The bullet was diverted to the sidewalk. As Mrs. Garth had an aim, she was determined to kill him.

Garth stated that he had filed suit for divorce from his wife July 17, last, through Justice W. E. Mattney, who wrested the gun from her hand and caused the husband to leave.

Mrs. Garth, who is the daughter of a prominent and wealthy family of Fort Worth, Tex., was taken to the City Jail, where she is being held in investigation leading to charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

Angeleno Tells How He Gave Passengers Warning.

About $200 and one diamond ring was obtained by two masked bandits who held up the Los Angeles Limited, No. 7, of the Union Pacific, between Oregon and Salt Lake city Wednesday afternoon, according to J. Cruckshank, general agent of the passenger department, upon whom the news of the hold-up at 2:40 p.m. yesterday. Mr. Cruckshank met the train at Las Vegas Wednesday night and interviewed members of the train crew and passengers concerning the hold-up.

"So far as I have been able to learn, not more than five or six passengers were robbed," Mr. Cruckshank said, "and not more than $200 and one diamond ring were taken by the bandits when they jumped off the train. The train crew acted as promptly as possible to put in such an emergency."

Charles Clegg, spokesman of the crew failed to act as promptly as they should have acted, thus allowing the bandits to escape. Were made by C. L. Moore of 901 North Hollenbeck street, a passenger on the train.

CRITICISMS CREW.

"Had the members of the crew pulled the bell cord and stopped the train when passengers requested them to, I feel sure the bandits would have been caught," Mr. Moore said. "The men who are said to have remarked to Mr. Moore as he led the litter to the rear car, Mr. Moore and other passengers convinced the bandit that Mr. Moore was not the man he had been to the alarm through the train and the bandit contented himself with merely taking Mr. Moore's money. The Los Angeles man feared for his life, he said, that the bandit was going to shoot him."

Only one shot was fired on the train by one of the bandits according to Mr. Aron, head of Barony, Inc., of this city, and that shot,

Farm and Tractor Section of "Times" to Tell of Utility Growth.

If ever Mexico goes dry, prohibition agents will turn in many charges for overtime trying to subdue the ambitious maguey plant, which furnishes the greater part of the hilarity in the Land of Manana. Maguey, as described in Sunday's Farm and Tractor Section of The Times, is not only the source of pulque and tequila, the national drinks of Mexico, but is the great utility plant of that country. A woman resident of Los Angeles, just returned from a stay of some months in the southern republics, tells entertainingly of the plant. The article is illustrated with nine pictures, printed in the rotogravure process.

TELLS OF SHOOTING.

"I had been in the dining car, and after my dinner I went to the observation car, intending to smoke," Mr. Aron told reporters. "When I got to the door of the observation car I found it locked, and immediately I suspected something was wrong. I called a porter and told him the door was locked and asked him why. He said he didn't know so I returned to the car, and, rounding the passageway, I glanced into the barber shop.

"There I saw a masked man holding up a passenger. Thinking it was a robbery, I turned and backed to hurry away when the bandit spied me, and, with a curse, ordered me to come back. I turned and ran into the car and ran into the passageway and found one shot at me."

"I ran to the window and I ran ahead, warning the passengers as I ran through the cars to hide their jewelry and money. In the dining car I found women and the conductor seemed afraid to do anything, and the latter was concerned about the money belonging to the company. I took it from him and hid it under the carpet in the aisle."

"Then I grabbed some menu cards, and, writing messages on them, wrapped them about baked potatoes I found on a table and tossed them out the window as we were going along the mountains down."

"I took a section hand pick up one of the notes, read it and laugh.

"The next note was similarly unheaded by another section hand, but the third one had its effect think for it was the finder who lowered a little shanty where I think there was a telephone."

THOUGHT IT FILM.
*****

Fred C. Aron of Houston, Tex., brother of Florence and King Vidor, cinema stars, thought the whole affair might be being set by some cinema company, he said, upon arriving in Los Angeles.

"None of the women was molested," said Mrs. Jennie Seymour, Long Beach apartment-hotel owner, another passenger on the train. "The bandits told all to hold up their hands, but they never bothered us," she said. Mrs. Seymour says she has her diamond rings in her mouth.

Discussing his contention that had the crew acted promptly as the train was drawing into the outskirts of Salt Lake City, the pair could have been saved, Mr. Moore said: "I saw a yellow dog near a lumber yard where the train stopped when the robbers pulled the bell cord. Soon after the bandits jumped off I saw that car rush away. It is my belief they escaped in it."

When He Was Baby; Split
in Kennedy Defense Denied

Billy Sunday, accompanied by "Ma" Sunday, renewed old acquaintances yesterday at the County Jail. He called upon Arthur C. Burch, accused jointly with Mrs. Madalynne Oberchain of the murder of J. Belmont Kennedy.

The evangelist had made the visit just to renew old acquaintances dating back to a time when he delivered a call for sinners in a Methodist church on the West side in Chicago. At that time, over thirty years ago, he saw a baby boy and that was Arthur Burch, son of Rev. William A. Burch.

Mr. Sunday said a few words remonstrating with old-time Chicagoans and of Chicago said "howdy" to Burch, shook his hand and, wishing him good luck, said good-by.

Rev. Mr. Burch yesterday made preparations to leave for Chicago. I will have full charge of the defense of Mrs. Oberchain and Mr. Burch," said Paul W. Schenck yesterday afternoon when informed of a report that he had withdrawn from the case.

There was some slight doubt yesterday as to whether or not financial arrangements which would keep me in the case would be made, but
